

2018 Learning Business Process Services Overall Rankings

NelsonHall's Vendor Evaluation & Assessment Tool (NEAT) analyzes the performance of vendors offering learning business process services (learning BPS). Strategic sourcing managers can assess the capability of vendors across a range of criteria and business situations and identify the best performing vendors overall, and with a specific focus on revenue & competency, learner engagement, cost reduction, compliance, and strategic transformation.

*"RPS was identified as a Leader for learning BPS for its emphasis on leveraging a collaborative approach to understand and address its clients' larger business issues through its learning solutions," said Amy Gurchensky, Senior Research Analyst at NelsonHall.

"In addition, its systems engineering background and commitment to leverage emerging learning technology enablers, position RPS well to meet future client requirements."
