

Sam Macmillan

Chief Financial Officer

Sam Macmillan is the Chief Financial Officer for Raytheon Australia.

As the Chief Financial Officer, Sam is responsible for partnering with Raytheon Australia's leadership to set the strategic objectives that drive financial performance and ensure Raytheon Australia delivers on its financial commitments.

Sam joined Raytheon Australia in 2009 as a financial accountant within the AWD program, taking on the financial controller position in 2012 – leading both Raytheon and Alliance finance teams.

Prior to his appointment as Chief Financial Officer, Sam was the head of the company's Financial Planning and Analysis group, responsible for all budgeting, forecasting and internal reporting requirements, including monthly results and forecasts, the annual operating plan and 5 year plans and analysis of the company's financial data and performance.

Prior to joining Raytheon Australia Sam spent four years within the financial reporting and analysis team of oil and gas producer SANTOS in Adelaide and Shell International in London, UK.

Sam earned his Bachelor of Accountancy at the University of South Australia and is a member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia and New Zealand.

Sam has been involved in a number of significant program teams throughout his time at Raytheon Australia, including the AWD Reform program in 2016. These achievements have seen Sam awarded the IDS President's award and the Raytheon Australia Managing Director's Excellence Award in 2016.
